

DELPHI

October 8, 2005

Dear Delphi Customer:

As a valued customer of Delphi, we felt it was vital for you to hear from us directly about an important action our company has taken to preserve the value of Delphi and complete our transformation plan designed to resolve our existing legacy issues and the resulting high cost of U.S. operations. Today Delphi Corporation and certain of its domestic U.S. subsidiaries filed voluntary petitions for business reorganization under chapter 11 of the U.S. Bankruptcy Code to accomplish the goal of reducing these costs as soon as possible.

Delphi is a diverse technology company. In addition to technology that is present in 75 million vehicles on the road worldwide, Delphi's portfolio includes technology that is present in communication, computer, consumer electronic and energy applications.

There are several important facts you should know:

- 1) First and foremost, you should know that none of Delphi's non-U.S. subsidiaries were included in the filing and are not subject to the requirements of chapter 11. We do not expect there to be any material impact on our business relationship or our ability to continue to pay for goods and services. We will continue to purchase and pay for goods and services in the normal course of business. Similarly, we will continue to provide the products and services to meet the needs of our customers.
- 2) Delphi has no plans to commence any insolvency proceedings in Asia Pacific, Canada, Europe, South America or Mexico that would result in the liquidation of any of our businesses. Our operations here are solid with positive cash flow and competitive margins. Should you or anyone in your organization have the slightest concern, I am prepared to meet with you to discuss the situation.
- 3) Delphi's U.S. operations are not going out of business. Chapter 11 in the United States is different from other insolvency laws around the world and in most cases does not involve the liquidation or dissolution of the company. Our chapter 11 business reorganization is well financed, well planned and well organized. The chapter 11 process will permit Delphi to continue to operate its business and serve its customers globally without interruption while Delphi's management team develops a plan of reorganization that will address our U.S. cost structure issues.

We remain committed to providing our aftermarket and consumer electronics customers with high-caliber automotive components for both Diesel and the Independent Aftermarket and leading-edge consumer electronic products for many years to come. Our customers should expect to receive the same superior engineering for which Delphi is known. We remain committed to developing technology and new products and providing our customers worldwide with our unparalleled customer support.
